2 INTRODUCTION

All Nations Christian College is a vibrant place to live, study, work and visit, enriched by the diversity of cultures and backgrounds brought by its students and staff. The College is committed to encouraging equality and diversity within the College community and eliminating unlawful discrimination, including bullying and harassment on discriminatory grounds of any of its members and those who use our services. Our aim is for all our students and staff to be truly representative of all sections of the society and the community we serve and for them to feel respected and to be a place where everyone has the opportunity to fulfil their potential.

3 LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK

- Equality Act 2010
- Public Sector Duty under the Equality Act 2010 (although the College, as a charity with religious objectives it may impose religious criteria for admissions)
- Guidance: 'What equality law means for you as an education provider – further and higher education' (Equality and Human rights Commission, 2014).

4 DEFINITIONS

- 4.1 The main aim of the Equality Act 2010 is to prevent discrimination in the workplace, but also covers educational institutions and is therefore relevant to students and staff.
- 4.2 Discrimination means being treated unfairly because of who the person is or, more specifically, because of what the Act calls 'protected characteristics', which are: age (only certain types of age discrimination are illegal), disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage and civil partnership, race (including colour, ethnic/national origin or nationality), religion or belief, sex (gender) and sexual orientation.
- 4.3 Discrimination can take different forms:

- Direct discrimination is where someone is put at a disadvantage on discriminatory grounds, even if it was unintentional. (E.g. sexual discrimination: a male student is rejected from a course on child care because the College thinks it is unsuitable for a male student to be working with children. Or disability discrimination: a wheelchair user is refused a position, even though the only room which was inaccessible to them was the photocopy room and it would be very easy for the employer to move the photocopier to a more easily accessible position for them. NB the employer would not need to make unreasonable adjustments to employ someone with a disability).
- Indirect discrimination is where a practice applies to all students but a person is unfairly disadvantaged by it because of their protected characteristic. (E.g. A requirement for academic IELTS as a selection criterion. This would have an unfair impact on people educated overseas and may not be justified if all that is needed is to demonstrate a reasonable level of literacy for a non-academic course. It would however be justified if they were taking an academic course.)

4.4 For definitions of the many and various types of harassment see the College Harassment Policy. The Equality and Diversity policy deals with such behaviour when it is deemed to be discriminatory in nature rather than simply inexcusable behaviour.

5 PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to set out the College's commitment to embedding equality and inclusion in all of its practices and aims to establish an inclusive culture that celebrates diversity, is free from discrimination and based on the values of dignity and respect and diversity by:

- 5.1 Maintaining equality, fairness and respect for all our students (whatever their mode or length of study) and staff (whether voluntary, temporary, part-time, full-time);
- 5.2 Not unlawfully discriminating against students or staff because of the Equality Act 2010 protected characteristics of disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage and civil partnership, race (including colour, ethnic/national origin or nationality), religion or belief, sex (gender) and sexual orientation, nor face unwarranted discrimination on the grounds of age;
- 5.3 Opposing and avoiding all forms of unlawful discrimination among its workforce. This includes in pay and benefits, terms and conditions of employment, dealing with grievances and discipline, dismissal, redundancy, leave for parents, requests for flexible working, and selection for employment, promotion, training or other developmental opportunities;
- 5.4 Rigorously investigating any accusations of discrimination, bullying or harassment of anyone working, studying or visiting our premises or by staff at events run by the College.

6 COMMITMENT:

The College is committed to:

- 6.1 Being a community in which equality of opportunity is a reality for all students and staff, whether temporary, short term, part-time, full-time or distance learners. Its mission and values motivate the College to create a positive environment in which all staff and students are respected, provided with development and progression opportunities and can make the most of their abilities.
- 6.2 Fostering an inclusive culture which promotes equality, values diversity and maintains a working, learning and social environment in which the rights and dignity of all members of the College community and its visitors are respected and where individual differences and the contributions of all staff and students are recognised and valued. The College celebrates and encourages diversity in all areas of the College community since it makes such a positive contribution to the intentional learning experience at All Nations.

- 6.3 Identifying and eliminating unfair or unlawful discrimination of all those with whom we interact. No member of, or applicant to, the College will receive unfair or unlawful treatment due to the Equality Act 2010 protected characteristics of disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage and civil partnership, race (including colour, ethnic/national origin or nationality), religion or belief, sex (gender) and sexual orientation, nor face unwarranted discrimination on the grounds of age.
- 6.4 Creating a working and learning environment free of harassment, bullying, victimisation and unlawful discrimination and expecting all members of the College community, (students, staff, contractors) and its visitors (guests, enquirers, conference users, contractors or any others) to treat each other with respect, courtesy and consideration at all times.
- 6.5 Taking seriously complaints of harassment, bullying, victimisation and unlawful discrimination by all members of the College community, (students, staff, contractors) and its visitors (guests, enquirers, conference users, contractors or any others) in the course of the College's activities.
- 6.6 Opposing all forms of unlawful discrimination among our workforce, including: in pay and benefits, terms and conditions of employment, dealing with grievances and discipline, dismissal, redundancy, leave for parents, requests for flexible working, and selection for employment, promotion, training or other developmental opportunities.
- 6.7 Adopting the following International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance definition of anti-semitism: "Antisemitism is a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. Rhetorical and physical manifestations of antisemitism are directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals and/or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities."

7 IMPLEMENTATION:

The College will therefore:

- 7.1 Make opportunities for training, development and progress available to all staff, who will be helped and encouraged to develop their full potential, so their talents and resources can be fully utilised to maximise the efficiency of the College.
- 7.2 Make decisions concerning student and staff recruitment and/or employment based on merit. (NB There are some necessary and limited exemptions and exceptions to this which are allowed under the Equality Act. E.g. the 'positive action' provision whereby a job or place may be offered to a person of a minority background when there are two candidates equally suitable for the same position).
- 7.3 Review employment practices and procedures regularly to ensure fairness, and also update both them and this policy to take account of changes in the law.
- 7.4 Make reasonable adjustments for current staff as well as applicants during recruitment. This will include careful review of wording in adverts to be inclusive, providing green paper for people with dyslexia, alternate format documents for those who are visually impaired. Additionally, special parking spaces are provided and accessible buildings and rooms for those using a wheelchair or with other mobility issues.
- 7.5 Make reasonable adjustments for employees whose physical circumstances change; this includes pregnant employees who undergo an initial risk assessment followed by reviews as the pregnancy advances.
- 7.6 Monitor the make-up of the workforce every two years regarding information such as age, gender, ethnic background, sexual orientation, religion or belief, and disability in encouraging equality and diversity, and in meeting the aims and commitments set out in the equality policy.
- 7.7 Monitor how the Equality and Diversity Policy and any supporting action plan are working in practice at the Board of Trustee's Autumn meeting each year. At this meeting the Board will take any appropriate action to address any issues. (See 'Appendix D Guidance for Equality Report for annual Board of Trustees Meeting' which is attached to this document.)

- 7.8 Train all members of senior management, line managers and all other employees and students about their rights and responsibilities under this policy. (See penultimate paragraph).
- 7.9 Inform all staff and students that they, as well as their employer, can be held liable for acts of harassment, bullying, victimisation and unlawful discrimination, in the course of their employment, against all members of the College community, (students, staff, contractors) and its visitors (guests, enquirers, conference users, contractors or any others) and the general public.
- 7.10 Respond to all complaints of harassment, bullying, victimisation and unlawful discrimination by fellow employees, students, visitors the public and any others in the course of the College's activities. (See section 8 below.)

8 COMPLAINTS

- 8.1 Allegations of harassment, bullying, victimisation or unlawful discrimination by any member of the College community are major offences and will be taken very seriously. These would be a breach of this policy and our Student Harassment Policy.
- 8.2 Disclosure of Complaint: It is usually in everyone's best interests to attempt to resolve disputes without the need for legal action.¹ It is highly recommended therefore that those who feel they have a complaint under this policy should first follow the College Complaints procedures. See 8.4 below.

8.3 Independent Advice:

Whether using an internal process or complaining to an external authorised body, the College and the Complainant should satisfy themselves first that there is a case to answer.

- Victim of Discrimination: If you think you might have been treated unfairly and want advice before proceeding, you can contact the Equality Advisory and Support Service. Phone: 0808 800 0082
- College: The following good practice guide on asking and responding to questions about discrimination in the provision of services and public functions including education services can be found here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/asking-and-responding-to-questions-of-discrimination-in-the-provision-of-goods-and-services-and-public-functions>

8.4 Internal College Procedures

- Complaint of discrimination to the College: Students, Staff or Visitors who believe that they may have been disadvantaged on discriminatory grounds is entitled to raise the matter through the College Complaints policy, however this section of this policy also contains information relating to the making of a complaint specific to a complaint of discrimination.
- Investigation into Accusations of Discriminatory Behaviour: If a member of staff is accused of breaches against this policy, they may be investigated using the Staff Disciplinary Procedures (Staff Handbook). A student in similar circumstances may be investigated using the Conduct, Conflict and Student Disciplinary Policy. Particularly serious complaints could amount to gross misconduct and lead to dismissal without notice (staff) or termination of registration (student). This does not affect an employee's right to make a claim to an employment tribunal within three months of the alleged discrimination.

8.5 Grounds for Appeals against the College Findings

- Should the complainant be dissatisfied with the outcome of the College investigation into their complaint they may appeal to the College to reconsider their findings if:
 - They feel the investigation was unfair; and/or
 - The remedy inadequate; and/or
 - The College did not follow its procedures properly.

In any of these cases the complainant may appeal using the College Complaints Policy.

- If after exhausting the College internal procedures (Complaint and Appeal) the person still feels dissatisfied they may escalate their complaint to a higher authority.

8.6 Escalating a Complaint to Higher Authorities

- There are several bodies who will hear a complaint of alleged discrimination by the College: The Open University (OU), The Office of the Independent Adjudicator (OIA) and the County or Sheriff Court.
- The OU and the OIA will not listen to any complaint until the College's internal complaints and appeal procedures have been exhausted and a Conclusion of Procedures Letter given. At this point a complaint can be made to The OU first and then, if still dissatisfied, the OIA. The final authority is the County or Sheriff Court.
- Time Limits: Timing is a factor when escalating a complaint of discrimination. Complaints to the County or Sheriff and must be done within 6 months less one day of the alleged discrimination, or the last time repeated discrimination took place, unless a complaint was made to the OIA first, in which case the time period is extended to 9 months less one day. Claims to an employment tribunal must be within 3 months less one day.
- Complaining to The Open University: See the section on Appeals and Complaints in the current Open University Handbook for Validated Awards, available here: <http://www.open.ac.uk/cicp/main/validation/about-ou-validation/handbook-validated-awards>
- Complaining to the OIA: The Office of the Independent Adjudicator was set up under the Higher Education Act 2004 to provide 'an independent student complaints scheme.' All higher education institutions in England and Wales are required to comply with the scheme which is free to students. See the OIA's website for their complaint's procedure at: www.oiahe.org.uk
- Complaining to the County or Sheriff Court: Taking court action can be a long and stressful process. It can also be expensive. It is important to keep in mind that if you lose the case in court, you may have to pay the legal costs of the other party. This is why advice should be sought from an experienced advisor before taking this route (e.g. Citizen's Advice or the Equality Advisory Support Service see 8.3 above).

To complain to the County or Sheriff's Court, see:

www.gov.uk/government/organisations/hm-courts-and-tribunals-service but note the strict time limits on discrimination claims, available at this link:

www.equalityhumanrights.com/en/advice-and-guidance/time-limits-discrimination-claims#h1

9 SANCTIONS

9.1 Open University

If the College is found to be at fault, The Open University will advise the action which should be taken to reach a satisfactory conclusion. This action might vary considerably depending on the nature of the complaint. The College will have to show that they have responded as required.

9.2 OIA Sanctions:

- See here: www.oiahe.org.uk/media/2275/putting-things-right-february-2019.pdf

9.3 County or Sheriff Court Sanctions:

A county or sheriff court can:

- Declare that the person making the claim has been unlawfully discriminated against, harassed or victimised or declare that no unlawful discrimination, harassment or victimisation has taken place.
- Impose an injunction requiring the College to do something (such as admit the person as a student) or to prevent you from repeating any discriminatory act in the future.
- Order the payment of compensation including compensation for injury to feelings.
- Order the payment interest on any compensation.
